18 hours of CE
Implant 101 - CT Guided Implant Placement Seminar

In this course, Dr. Seth Kimmelman will take you through the history of dental implant design and engineering. He will guide you through the treatment planning process of single and multiple unit posterior cases, the basics of implant surgery, and prosthetic selection.

Incorporating lectures, checklists and open discussion, you will be able to place an implant for your pre-selected patient during the hands-on surgical part of the course, leaving you with the knowledge to implement proven implant dentistry into your practice.

Course Objectives:

- Understand the principles behind the mechanical design of modern dental implants
- Analyze fully CT guided surgery to reduce complications of malpositioned dental implants
- Learn patient selection guidelines
- Discuss and experience the most up-to-date non-invasive implant placement techniques
- Review pharmacology and emergency procedures
- Comprehend surgical and prosthetic treatment planning
- Basic surgical principles: suturing, incisions, flap design, etc.
- Review Anatomy
